Wherever your interests may lie, the English Department at Haverford guarantees an interesting and informative insight into them with a wide range of diversified electives. Under the direction of Mr. John Rybnik, the English Department has continued once again to update its already fine program.

Many more new electives were offered this year such as Sports in Literature; Women in Literature; Words, Words, Words; and Viewpoints in Literature. These, in addition to over ten other electives including such traditional courses as American Literature and British Literature give the student a chance to delve into the lives and great works of many writers who can help him understand himself and his world a little better. Courses that stress writing and speaking skills are also offered.

The department can be proud of the fine blend of the practical and esthetic aspects of English that it offers in order to reach every student.

The Social Studies Department consists of basically three sections, American History, World Cultures, and various electives, and has a personnel complement of sixteen teachers.

Electives afford the student a perspective in the field of different Social Studies. The electives consist of African Studies, Asian Studies, Black Studies, Contemporary World Problems, Economics, International Relations, Latin American Studies, Modern European Studies, Senior Seminar, and Social Problems.

The travelog approach in the Latin American Studies was an innovation this year. In American History, a pilot project utilizing the topical approach proved to be a success and will be implemented in 1974-75. In all Electives, students are afforded an opportunity to receive credit for one semester of course work.

The general aim of the department is to provide quality education through a variety of methods and techniques, and to maintain enough flexibility to meet the student's needs.

Headed by Mr. Robert Lo Furno, the Math Department at Haverford continues to efficiently prepare students for the future use of math skills with a wide variety of math courses ranging from General Math to Analytical Geometry and Calculus. An experimental General Math Course is being taught by Mr. Bill McMillen.

Next years prospects look even more inviting, with several consumer and business oriented math courses as well as courses dealing with the mathematics of probability.

Many students seem to be taking advantage of the wide variety of courses and taking more than the one required math course.

The quality of the department is a credit to Haverford.

LANGUAGE APPRECIATION IS CULTURE

Under the direction of Mrs. Cooper, the foreign language department feels that learning a language aids students in understanding better the culture and the people of other nations and that this knowledge helps to bring the people of the world closer together.

This year the different language classes treated the school to plays, starting with one performed in French this past November, skits written in Latin, Spanish, and Italian followed in January. The plays were a huge success, and were enjoyed thoroughly by all who attended them.

All the language groups came together at the International Dinner, held on January 31, to sample the cuisine of each others representative country. An entertainment program was also provided by each of the language groups.

The Business Education Department has sixteen elective courses to offer Haverford students. The courses fall into three categories: Accounting, Secretarial, and Socio-Business. All the business courses offer ample opportunity for a wide range of student abilities, from students who want some basic business background to students who want to pursue a career in Business Education or Business Administration. Many students have maintained a high level of proficiency are also given the outlets to prove their skill.

One of the popular business courses is Law in Society. This course, taught by Mr. McHugh, is only offered to seniors since he feels that seniors will be entering society very soon and should be aware of their opportunities as well as their pitfalls. This year five lawyers were brought into the Law classes and the periods were open to spontaneous questions.

This type of innovation is a reflection of Mr. McHugh's theories about more student interest in the classroom. Haverford students are being given the opportunity to learn of their position in society as well as to use the tools to work within it.

The Arts program at Haverford is responsible for the encouragement, training, and inspiration of aspiring Picasso's or Galloping Gourmets.

Students in the Home Economics department are instructed in the practical arts of housekeeping, decor, and raising a family. The course ranges from goods to marriage and family. This year the department developed a new course, Bachelor Living, for guys who wish to remain bachelors.

The Fine Arts department guides students to mastering the more decorative arts. They begin with the basics of drawing and color. After mastering these, they expand their knowledge to different media such as oil painting, clay, and printing.

In the Industrial Arts department, the areas of building and planning are covered. In the shop, students are basically able to work on their own.

The Arts Department also encompasses the Chamber Singers, the Concert Choir, the Choraliers, the Orchestra, and the Marching Band.

Anyone entering the high school during third or fourth periods would be confronted with a unique scene. For during these periods the traditional gym divider has fallen into step with the age of new morality and equality of the sexes. This liberated marvel is called co-ed gym, which was voluntarily experimented with last year. When it first became a regularly offered course, this year, it was met with some hesitation. However the period is a skillful blending of carryover sports as well as team activities like football, volleyball, and speedball. Though some participants paused before sharing their gym regalia to the opposite sex, they became cheerful partners by the end of the semester.

Juniors and sophomores are also being introduced to more carryover sports such as golf, archery, and tennis, but because the facilities do not meet the demands of the large classes, the equipment is not used as often as it should.

A necessary evil for sophomores is a thrice weekly health class that exposes students to the areas of first aid, drugs, alcohol, smoking, physical and mental health, and sex education. By utilizing more movies and guest speakers, the health teachers hope to create more student interest and involvement in this required course.

ALLGATES FITS THE MOOD—NOT THE MOLD

The old Lloyd family mansion is the site of one of Haverford's most controversial schools — Allgates. This alternative to a standard high school education has completed its second year. The unique program resulted from overcrowding at the high school and the need for a different type of learning experience.

The actual work done in any one of the four offered subjects is related not only to the other three, but also to the practical world. Though there is some lecturing, most of the class time is spent in discussion among the students. The in-depth study of each course is carried out according to the need of each student. Outside sources from the community are used a great deal. There is also time for volleyball games as well as tennis or football. Hikes and canoe trips organized by the students also provide a relaxing time for the students to get to know one another better.

The Allgates program is a combination of many things. It is the type of learning experience that is truly felt, not just memorized.

Mrs. Brucher, Allgates resident mother.

Nancy Rodgers proves what TLC and three green thumbs can do.

Loretta Bruce spends a quiet moment.

Allgaters transcend the present to be where their minds desire.

Like Allgates the three Vocational-Technical schools, Aston, Marple, and Folcroft are another part of Haverford's educational program. At vo-tech students are taught a trade that will prepare them for a good position in the Business or Industrial world.

While enrolled in vo-tech students have a choice of a great number of courses ranging from Auto Mechanics to Dental Assistance to Commercial Art. The courses are taught with some of the best equipment and teachers education has to offer.

Students also take part in directing some of the school activities such as taking attendance, preparing lunches, and managing some of the schools' maintenance facilities.

Upon graduating a student receives a certificate from the school which states the number of hours spent in class and the number of years spent in a course. Then a student may obtain a good job or else go on to a private training school.

A CHANCE FOR THE FUTURE

For the past two years the high school has expanded its walls to accommodate Mrs. Walker, who came out of retirement to replace a teacher on sabbatical, and her 15 students, members of the work-study program.

In its fourth year of operation, this group of senior high students has earned over $14,000 in total wages in a program which allows them to either remain in school for the first half of the day and work in the afternoon, or vise versa.

Mrs. Walker, coordinator of the program, tries to keep personal contacts with the employers to maintain better student-community relations. Students in the program are employed in such varied occupations as nurses' aids, car washers, and other local merchant helpers as well as staff members at McDonald's, Burger King, and the Junior High cafeteria.

Haverford should be commended for giving students an opportunity to obtain a secure future for themselves while still in high school.

Mrs. Elizabeth Walker

Work Study Coordinator

The Cooperative Work-Study Program gives the student two opportunities in one day. The first half of the day is spent at the high school attending classes, while the remainder of the day finds the student out in the community. Two credits can be received for this work experience. Mr. Gerald Harter supervises this new program as a teacher-coordinator, interested in the betterment of school and community relations. Another alternative has been found to increase the scope of Haverford's educational system.

The forty-five students enrolled in this program not only received valuable on the job training, but also earned more than $75,000 during the ten month school year.

The infirmary disperses much more than an endless supply of aspirin and Malox. Nurses, Mrs. K. Yerger and Miss E. Ruess along with Dr. Hall, the school doctor, and members of the Nursing Club must complete physicals and hearing tests for all eleventh grade students and vision tests for pupils in all grades. In addition, physical examinations are given for all sports candidates.

Mrs. Mary Daniels heads the Audio Visual Department. She and her student staff kept teachers supplied with movies, movie projectors, record players and other mechanical equipment. They also preview all audio-visual materials which were used during the year.

Despite the lack of physical space, the library, under the direction of Mr. George Steinrock, managed to provide students with all types of materials, from term paper topic reference books, to a Sherlock Holmes mystery, to a microfilmed issue of the New York Times. This year the library was carpeted, which gave students a quieter atmosphere to work. A new addition to the staff was Miss Harriet Simon who assisted Mr. Steinrock in keeping the library in working order.

A student is faced with so many paths that lead to some hazy future. And it seems as though each path has so many barriers that it would be easier to stay in high school for the next ten years and become a professional student.

In the newly acquired red brick house on Leedom Rd. is a team of six people working to knock down some of those barriers. Led by Mr. Drukin, the Guidance Department tries to prepare the student for difficulties he may encounter in reaching his goals, whether they are a college, a vocational school, or the military service or even a job at the local gas station.

What is most satisfying about the guidance team is that students are free to walk into the informal surroundings at "Leedom House" whenever they have a free period to discuss their problems as well as just having an informal talk.

Any student would be amazed at the actual paper work that is done in the Guidance Department – sending student transcripts and applications to colleges and keeping a personal record of every student in the school. The Guidance secretaries should be praised as well.

With all the Tender Loving Care pouring out of "Leedom House", how could a Haverford student go wrong?

For some people, contact with Haverford's administration is limited to passing their offices, seeing them from a distance, or hearing their voices over the P.A. system. Though they may not be known personally, there are four very competent men watching the welfare of our school.

In addition to many other duties, Dr. Hall is largely responsible for the development and evaluation of the curriculum. He is also in charge of teacher evaluation and is the administrative head of Allgates where, this year, he served as an advisor to twelve students.

Mr. Mel Drukin, assistant principal, coordinates and evaluates student activities. Those who are involved in the Extended Experience Program have benefitted greatly from Mr. Drukin's advice.

Mr. George Leute, assistant principal, spends a great deal of his time working on schedules for students. He also distributes report cards and supervises student teachers.

Mr. James Shiplett, administrative assistant, is the Boys Athletic Director and Disciplinarian.

As these four men work together and carry out responsibilities, Haverford continues to provide excellent academic and social opportunities for its students.

NEW BOARD — NEW IDEAS

During the past year, the School Board has legislated many new policies for the district. Following the recommendations of the administration, the experimental smoking and open programs were approved for the Senior High School. In addition, the Educators Committee, chaired by Dr. Gavin, investigated two main areas of Concern: student discipline and the drug problem.

The school board has undertaken a definite step towards upgrading the elementary and junior high schools by hiring an architectural firm to perform an honest evaluation of the schools' needs, while the Interim Committee, appointed by the board, determines the priorities for the district. These two groups, together with the Administration and the Curriculum Committee hold the responsibility of researching the physical needs of the district schools and devising possible solutions.

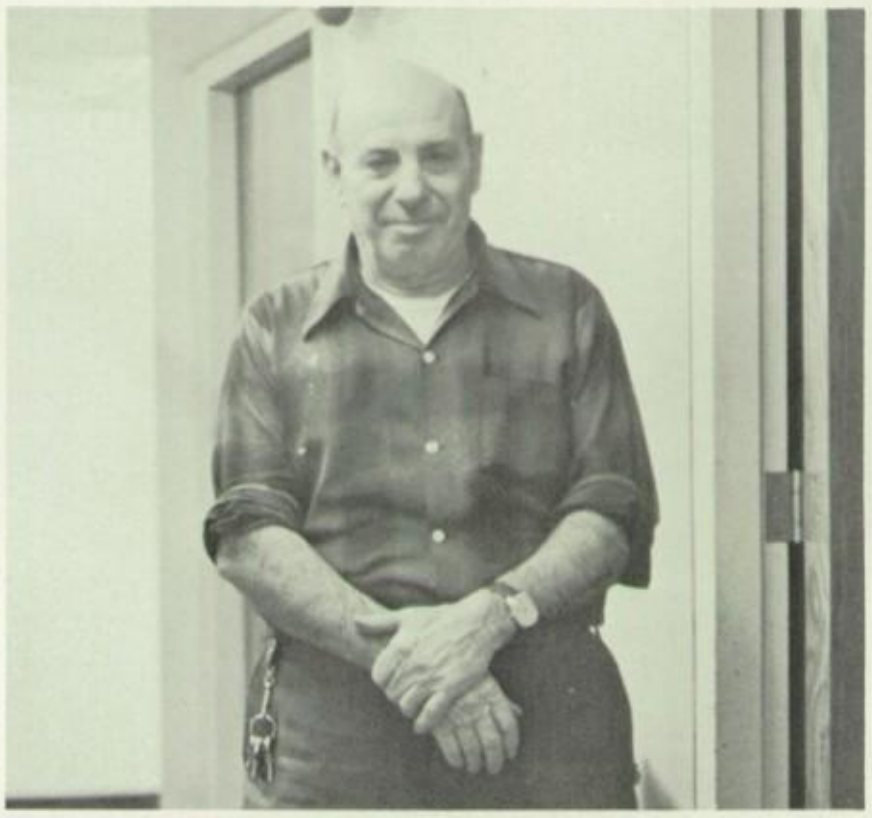
MAINTENANCE PEOPLE WHISTLE WHILE THEY WORK

Headed by Mr. John O'Neil, the custodial staff at Haverford strives to keep the school at its best for the students and teachers as well as visitors.

A constant stream of repair requests come to Mr. O'Neil's desk daily to repair clogged drains to shattered windows to flickering lights to a broken water boiler. But like the cleanup committee at a dance, the work is quick, the hours are well spent, and the competence usually goes unrecognized. However, maintenance people can be distinguished by their clean appearance, helpful manner, and friendly smile.

In the cafeteria, another team of workers is satisfying the stomachs of over 2000 students. They captured an award for the highest membership in the Del Val Food Service and placed first and second for their preparation of French and Italian breads. Mrs. Lynn Verdi and her staff should be praised for the capable manner in which the food is prepared, the variety of foods offered, and their ability to keep the hungry mobs content.

Bus drivers are another crew whose work is not often appreciated. They run constant daily shuttles from the high school to the junior high to vo-tech to the elementary schools. Their chauffering is often taken for granted and yet they are a very vital part of Haverford High School.



A quiet, pleasant day in the cafeteria.

The hungry throngs make the cash lady very popular.

Add one teaspoon of Tender Loving Care.

Mrs. Verdi keeps a watchful eye over her domain.

The Tastycakes are well protected.

Seek happiness for its own sake, and you will not find it; seek for duty, and happiness will follow as the shadow comes with the sunshine.

SENATE SURVIVES ROOKIE YEAR

School store manager, Jill Korn, lists the benefits of buying a Haverford t-shirt to a prospective customer.

The Student Senate has made a start towards a more meaningful and efficient student government. The working competence of the student government was increased by fewer officers in the Executive Body, specialized committees, and the Forum. The Forum, which consists of the Student Senate Chairman, Greg Laird; Secretary-Treasurer, Maxine Kramer; six Class Representatives; three Administrators; four Faculty Representatives; and a School Board Member, meet regularly to discuss ideas and problems which directly affect the students of Haverford.

Progress was made by the Executive Body and General Body, the latter consisting of any concerned students. Another unique and beneficial idea was the Student Commons, which allowed all students in a study hall to enjoy the facilities of the cafeteria, student court, and library, without the use of the blue hall pass.

The Student Senate financed their needs by the sale of candy apples and by sponsoring the Homecoming Dance. Like any productive and concerned government, the Student Senate was always at work formulating ideas to improve the school.

This year's Honor Society used its resources of scholarship, character, leadership and service to a greater extent than ever before. Under the dynamic guidance of Kathy McNamee new ideas were promoted, among them a tutoring program that was quite extensive.

The annual Christmas Tea held in the library welcomed back the Society's alumni while providing an extra social event for HHS's top students.

Fred Hughes and Marion Shrut sponsored this honorary club. Kathy was aided in her challenging task by Mitchell Resnick, Steve Freilich, and Tami Levitt.

The spring induction was marked by a policy change referring to the admittance of students; thus the number of participants is expected to rise in the coming years.

SO FEW DO SO MUCH FOR SO MANY

Back in September, no one realized just how much work and time would be needed to produce a yearbook. The wise warnings of Doc were disregarded during those lazy autumn afternoons but deadlines don't change. With only a dozen seniors combining their ideas and talents into a book for an entire school, dedication became an invaluable factor.

Long nights without dinner, vacations in room 330, and afternoons spent trying to be creative, were especially familiar to Anita Fayda, Chris Desjardins and Kriss Keller.

As you page through this yearbook, try and remember when else so few have done so much for so many.

MEET THE PRESS . . .

The harried editors and eager reporters who work late hours in the Fordian room produce Haverford's school newspaper, the Fordian, eight times a year.

For forty-three years of publication, the Fordian has brought Haverford news of both the community and the school. The newspaper also offers editorials on a variety of issues, sports news, and feature articles about teachers, clubs, and community events, and satires on school affairs.

A new innovation of the Fordian this year was a gag page called the Fraudian. This page offered news about the takeover of the school by WHHS, the stage crew, and stage band, in addition to an expose on the township skating rink (a front for the middle school), a review of the school play "The Bible", and the all-time favorite, Crapaule Comments.

Directed by Mr. John Fahey, the Fordian staff is made up of nine editors chosen each year by the outgoing editorial staff, and a number of reporters, who do their best to bring Haverford samples of good writing, along with information and entertainment.

THE CREATIVE QUILLS

With Sue Mulcahy regulating the flow of genius and Andrea Dellarco directing the creative quills, we have the confection of our bi-annual school magazine . . . Pen and Ink.

Weekly meetings were held to sift through material submitted, work with the authors and artists of selected materials and to plan the layout. The combination of skillfully used words, unique drawings and tedious hours of work created a novel magazine.

The staff of Pen and Ink were expected to submit three pieces every month. The editors along with Mrs. Mary Inman and Mrs. Jean Priniski conferred on the final copy.

Prosperous bake sales made it possible to buy the covers for the Winter and Spring issues.

The end harvest was, of course, fruitful. The Pen and Ink stimulated the students' feelings and imaginations. Who knows what future Thoreaus or Renoirs lurk in the many pages of Pen and Ink.

THE LISTENING IS EASY ON 89.3 FM

If you tuned into 89.3 on your FM dial this year, you were the lucky recipient of a wide variety of entertainment and information. In the music department the programing ranged from hard rock and jazz, to show tunes and classical works. Sports events ere also covered; no matter how far HHS's athletes traveled, WHHS was there to cover the action. Other shows included reviews of movies, a special election night program, and extra guidance help concerning arena scheduling and course selection.

Strong leadership was provided for the dedicated participants by chief engineers Steve Freilich and Dave Hamilton, along with the aid of faculty advisor, Mr. Laird Shively. Invaluable experience in the communications field added to the lives of Haverford's radio enthusiasts.

THE BAND BRINGS BEETHOVEN

With their marching season over, the band settled down to practice for their various concerts. They sponsored an enjoyable and successful Musical Extravaganza Night. The evening's entertainment included many songs by arranger and composer Bill Holcombe, who was on hand to direct some of the numbers personally. Due to their hard work and determination, the band was able to receive a rating of "excellent" when they traveled to Norristown to be adjudicated.

The ever popular stage band also provided much enjoyment for the school this year. Among other things they played for the talent show, school play, the Band Mother's Fashion Show and Card Party, and the HTEA banquet.

Bringing the year to a close, the band, minus its senior members, played for the last time at the Graduation Exercises to the tune of "Pomp and Circumstance."

THESE CLUBS FUN IS IN ANY

The German Club, under the direction of Jeanne McElwee, had a very successful year. Hard work and enthusiasm characterized the club's activities. The float exhibited in the Homecoming Parade won third prize, and a bit of Germany was added to the International Dinner with an interesting display of wooden figures and German terraine that conjured up images of Bavarian castles and farmland cottages. The biggest event of the year was the reception given in honr of the visiting German exchange students. The students and faculty were invited to meet the visitors and become acquainted with a small segment of Germany. On the whole, the year was exciting and educational, and next year promises to be even better.

PROVE THAT THE SAME LANGUAGE

A picnic at Allgates started off the Spanish Club year and dinner at Tippy's Tacos House followed a few weeks later. President, Greg Caneda along with sponsors Dan MacMullen and Kathleen Manley had many fund raising ideas, including a very successful bake sale. For the Thanksgiving Day parade, the Spanish Club float entered as a Spanish senor. The International Dinner was another one of their many activities.

The Italian Club tried to promote the Italian culture this year by participating in the International Dinner as well as sponsoring bake sales, holding a Halloween Party at Don Guanella, and entering a float in the Homecoming parade. Members also performed songs and dances for various organizations. A trip to Italy over spring vacation culminated the year.

Consul Carol Moore and faculty advisor Miss Bernice Gilmore provided the leadership that led the members of the Junior Classical League through another fine year. In December, at the time of the yuletide, the JCL'ers celebrated the Saturnalis, complete with songs in Latin and costumes from Roman days of glory. March brought the annual banquet where toga garbed Latins feasted and lounged in the fashion of the ancients.

The JCL hosted the International Dinner, providing venison stew and a demonstration of Greek dancing.

Other activities included the November Flea Market held outside the school, and a trip to the University of Pennsylvania Museum. JCL also hosted guest speakers and sponsored several films. An enjoyable year ended with the Spring Picnic which was held at Allgates.

Carol Rothman and Carolin Showers seem enthused over the hearty fare.

THE CAN-CAN ADDS FRENCH FLAVOR

Kathy McNamee and Sally Pavlidis interrupt Jerry Feldman in Miss Antoinette's living room.

Under the leadership of President Tami Levitt, this year's French Club added a new first to its list with the premier of the play "Mlle. Antoinette's Diamonds".

As in other years, the French Club participated in the International Dinner with food and entertainment. Many girls made Quiche Lorraine, an egg and cheese dish, while eleven of them in colorful skirts danced the ever popular but daring dance, "The Can Can".

To wrap up the year, a progressive dinner was held with eight courses offered at various members' homes.

. . . SERVICE IS

Denise Shor perks up the halls of Haverford.

The formula for having a successful service organization at Haverford is devoted members and continuous service projects clearly demonstrated by the Girls Service Club under the direction of Carolyn Hamilton, president, and Mrs. Pass, faculty sponsor.

The club's helping hands stretch as far as Viet Nam to foster a child and as near as Haverford by offering an annual scholarship. Many have seen G.S.C.'s talent as ushers, waitresses, and florists, but little know of their vast outside work—Christmas carolling at Inglis House, campaigning for Easter Seals, and visits to Philadelphia General Hospital, St. Edmonds, and Children's Cottage.

Although G.S.C. members do not seek recognition, they are rewarded with self-achievement and increasing knowledge of their school and community.

This year Students For A Better Community worked to help both the school and the community.

Recycling continued successfully on the third Saturday of every month behind Manoa Shopping Center, but this year club members voted to donate some of the profits to other school clubs in need of funds including City Tutoring, Congressional Seminar, and the Wandering Eye. SBC also gave the profits of one recycling to Gaudenzia House, a program in the Philadelphia area to rehabilitate drug addicts.

SBC's most innovative undertaking was "Caring Is Sharing" an environmental conference held at Haverford College in March. The format for the conference consisted of discussion groups in the morning and afternoon with guest moderators, a tour of the campus, and continuous movies. Discussion topics included environmental careers, water pollution controls, public transportation, and urban land planning.

Another new idea for 1974 was to join with community service groups from nearby schools to clean up Darby Creek on "Keep America Beautiful Day" this spring. Students from Marple-Newtown, Springfield, and Upper Darby got together with SBC members and worked on different parts of the creek. The results were gratifying and SBC hopes to repeat this project next spring.

Other SBC activities for the year included bike hikes, camping trips, election education projects, and planting trees in the community.

SBC deserves a lot of credit for "getting involved."

FHA aims at familiarizing students with the wide variety of jobs facing a homemaker. Under the direction of President Sally Pavlidis, many projects were accomplished this year. These include bake sales, candy sales, and most important of all a collection for CARE. The field trip to Hershey Park and the fashion show in May climaxed a very enjoyable and fruitful year for FHA.

The Future Nurses Club consists of girls interested in health careers. Headed by Mrs. Katherine Yerger, the club members assisted in the infirmary during their free periods.

The Future Scientists at Haverford had a very busy year. In addition to monthly meetings which featured guest speakers, the group took many educational and diversified field trips. With the funds raised under the leadership of Mitchel Resnick, FSA gave a scholarship to a deserving science student. The annual canoe trip closed the year's activities.

YEA members broadened their scope of experience more than ever this year. President Debby Davenport organized the teacher aide program as well as tutoring in the elementary and senior high schools. The most enlightening challenge that members faced was the tutoring of foreign students enrolled in the Senior High.

CONCERNED STUDENTS SACRIFICE

Sue Hemmelstein and Debbie Zuckermann confer with Mr. Hughes in the "Open Door" on a drug related article.

Some people are interested in other people. Quietly, intently, they work throughout the township. They discuss problems with people of various attitudes, searching for reasons and alternatives to drug abuse.

Peer Group was created three years ago. Under the sponsorship of Dr. Gerald Hogan, a group of thirty volunteer Haverford students joined a three week training clinic, held at Lankenau Hospital. They investigated the medical aspects of drug abuse by discussing symptoms, viewing films, and visiting different rehabilitation centers to discover some solutions for helping people face their problems. Participating in encounter and sensitivity sessions, they learned how to communicate with others and to understand themselves. With this background, the students were ready to function in the community.

Peer Group has become an educational organization. Its members talk with elementary school students and are available for parochial schools. Involved in the high school, they run seventh grade health class programs and actively support OPEN DOOR, the proposed student referral project. Their scope of interest isn't limited to peers but includes PTA's and community groups. Generally, the programs have been very successful. Peer Group looks forward to future years of serving the community.

THEIR TIME FOR OTHERS

Under the supervision of Miss Louise Blum and President Sue McCuin, the Interact Club had an even better year than last.

The concerned students involved used their time to help the community and foster several children in Appalachia. A car wash and the selling of calendars and address books helped contribute to the funds which allowed the above to be accomplished.

The Pancake Breakfast on Thanksgiving Day was the most energetic affair which involved all members in the colonizing task of making hotcakes.

Aiding Sue McCuin were vice-president Eileen Carroll, secretary Sharon Colzie and treasurer Patti Halstead.

A look behind the scenes revealed the method in which the breakfast was made— GOOD!

Peggy Blence and friends enjoy a tasty meal.

AROUND THE WORLD

WWW members bring folk songs of the world to the International Dinner.

World Wide Workshop was originated to establish friendship around the world. To reach their goal, the club helps students to learn about foreign foods, customs, and ways of life. By bringing fellowship and understanding of foreign countries to Haverford, they can hopefully give students an insight into areas beyond a local scope.

The year began with a trip to Washington, D.C., where students met and talked with Senator Jackson, Congressman Riegle, Senator Schweiker, Senator Clark, and the administrative aid of Senator Biden.

Several members participated in World Affairs related seminars and forums of the Philadelphia Council. Topics included: the future of our cities, pros and cons of the United Nations, the energy crisis, social liberation, and Japan.

Representing Denmark and France, they attended three Model United Nations at various colleges. They also played the roles of senators and witnesses in a Model Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and were seen on various rap-up television shows.

To finance their activities, the enterprising WAC sold silk screened t-shirts and held several bake sales.

The Art club is primarily for students with an interest in arts and crafts, whether creators or appreciators. Their activities were workshops, demonstrations, and speakers. This year's club led by President Eileen Willard and faculty sponsor Janice Fanelli, had a successful and eventful year.

The Audio-Visual Club was of considerable service to Haverford. During free periods members worked in the A-V room or delivered equipment to teachers.

The Library Aid Club served to help organize the reference center and keep it running smoothly. Among other things, the students carded books and tended the always surrounded desk.

The Stage Crew was a very giving activity donating all its' time to assemblies, plays and shows, making sure that all facilities were in tip-top shape for the performance.

YOUR MOVE

Recently reactivated, the Chess Club attracted many enthusiastic students. Sponsored by Mr. Bruce Donald, this organization had an all-time high membership.

The format for competition started with a Ladder Tournament which determined rank. Top ceded Stuart Resnick led the team to a perfect season convincingly defeating Cheltenham and Yeadon Highs.

Aiding President Jim Gallagher were officers Raffy Sahelian and Robert Schweiker. A bright outlook for next year is expected since most of the club will be returning.

STUDENTS OUTSCORED ALL OTHERS

This year's Hi-Q Team was victorious, placing in both the first and second playoff series. In the playoff session Haverford tallied 71 points which gave the Fords the deed to first spot with Collingdale falling behind.

The team won $1500 for the school and individual prizes for each member. The gifts ranged from TV sets to calculators.

Faculty sponsors for the winning team were Marlene Artymovicz, Eleanor Lavin and Joseph Greco.

Hi-Q panelists place itchy fingers on the buzzer in the toss-up round.

STRIKE!

Captained by senior Marvin Kohn, the Boys Bowling team travelled to the Gehris Lanes in Sixty-ninth Street on Wednesday afternoons. After two weeks of team competitions, five varsity and five junior varsity keglers were chosen from amongst Haverford's highest scorers.

Mr. Elliott added organization to this year's team. During their regulation season, the Fords bowled against five Central League schools including Marple Newtown, Lower Merion, Upper Darby, Springfield, and number one rated Ridley.

THE PINS FALL FOR HAVERFORD KEGLERS

On Wednesday afternoons, the twelve allies of Wynnewood Lanes hosted the female Ford bowlers. Over thirty teams consisting of four or five girls per team competed in two separate leagues, one at two-ten and the other at three o'clock.

The Christmas and Award Banquets, held at Wynnewood, added social events to the club's already active year. President Louise Marchione along with sponsors Miss Constance Bevins and Mrs. Muriel McCloskey, guided the girls through a year of practice and enjoyment.

The Fords finished a depressing season this year, due to the young teams' lack of experience since only four varsity icemen returned.

Coached by Mr. Ed Galli, the season was spent rebuilding the team after the departure of last years' lettermen. Standout performances from Captain Bill Galli, Jeff Pogue, and Bill Hensil helped contribute to a boosting of the teams' spirit with two wins and a tie.

The Ford icemen opened their season with an impressive return in the third period to tie Lower Merion. After an energetic opening of the year, the Fords conceded defeat until a midseason victory to Lower Merion. Their second victory came late in the season when they toppled Swarthmore. School sponsor of the team was Mr. Joseph Shuster.

The girls volleyball team, coached by Mrs. Sue Pass, succeeded in taking first place at the volleyball playday again this year. The competition was held at Marple Newtown High School. Other schools in contention included Conestoga, Lower Merion, Upper Darby, Ridley, Nether Providence, Springfield, and Radnor. Every team played each of the other teams once, and Haverford won by compiling the best won-lost-tied record against the other eight teams. After the tournament, Haverford's girls faced a team composed of the coaches, and were defeated.

This season for the first time the girls met Merion Mercy Academy in a 2 out of 3 match. Unfortunately the team lost, but it is hoped that more outside games can be scheduled for next year since the culmination of weeks of practice is only one day of competition.

"ARSENIC AND

With the Thanksgiving Game and Homecoming just one week away, what better way to relieve tension than to step into the senile world of Abby and Martha Brewster, of Brooklyn. Sioux Hemmelstein and Libby Gardener, both Haverford Seniors, portrayed these dotty women who poisoned men who were "all alone in the world". Brian Hurst and Pam Foster played the lead male and female roles of Mortimer Brewster, a drama critic, and Elaine Harper, the daughter of the minister who lived next door. The Reverand Doctor Harper was played by John Redding, in his Haverford stage debut, while the bugle-blowing nephew, Teddy Brewster, was portrayed by Jeff Honeyman.

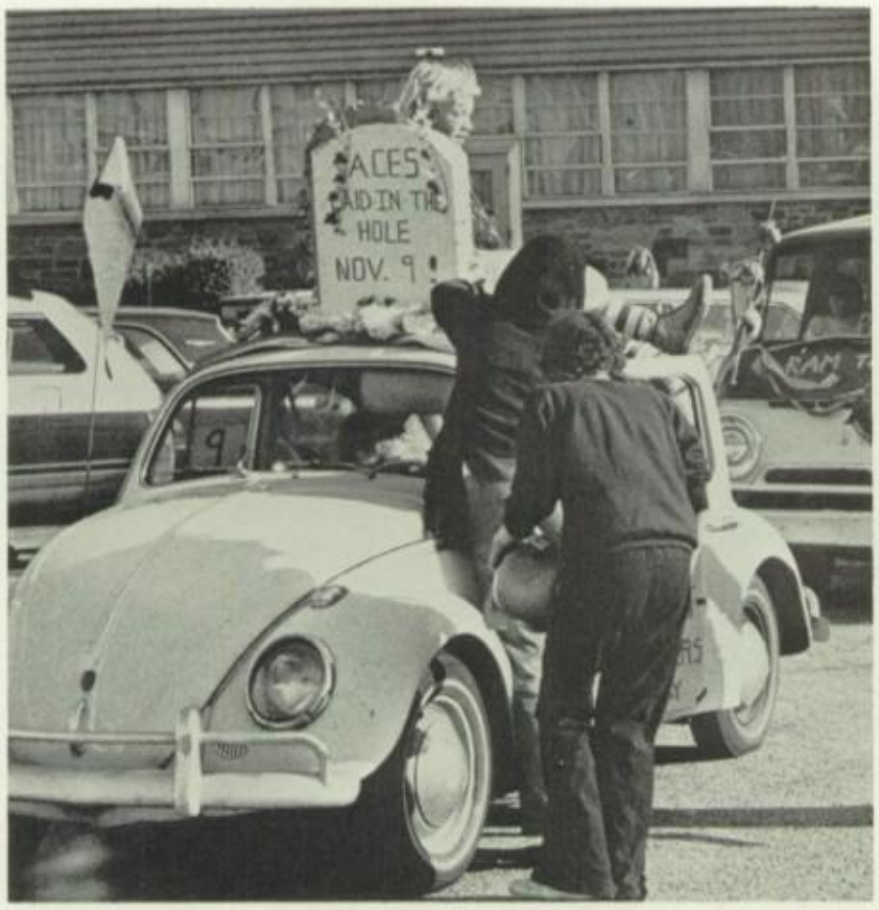
Under the direction of Mr. Robert Shissler, the play also presented such talents as Richard London, Steve

OLD LACE"

Rosard, and Bob Ehrenberg, depicting the able-bodied Officers Klein, Brophy, and O'Hara respectively. Lieutenant Rooney, their leader, was played by Thomas Newman, while Steve Frielich acted as the Superintendent of Happy Dale Sanitarium, Mr. Witherspoon. The show was stopped by the appearance of Jonathan Brewster, a criminal and borther of Mortimer, portrayed by Jon Andrews. Jonathan was always followed by his plastic surgeon, Dr. Herman Einstein, played by Greg Laird.

For those who dare to seek the Brewster house in Brooklyn, there is one word of warning. Gary Cooperstein, as Mr. Gobbs, and the thirteen bodies in the cellar can attest to it . . . DON'T DRINK THE WINE!

The parade passes by the building but not the students.



The years at Haverford go by, faces change, but traditions remain, rekindling memories of the way we were. Alumni returned during the Thanksgiving holiday to cheer on the reining Fords.

Brightening smiles as well as the dark November night, the bon-fire burned with rivalry on the eve of the big game. Cinderella's Coach, a Carolyn Hamilton and committee original, lent fairyland atmosphere to Haverford's own gym.

Pancakes before turkey became a must as Interact added more fun to the morning after. A parade of red and gold enhanced the Ford spirit while displaying talent throughout the township.

Ending the season with a determined fight, the Haverford football team realized that a job well done is all that matters. In years to come, traditions like Homecoming, will return us to our high school days which we have no longer but can never forget.

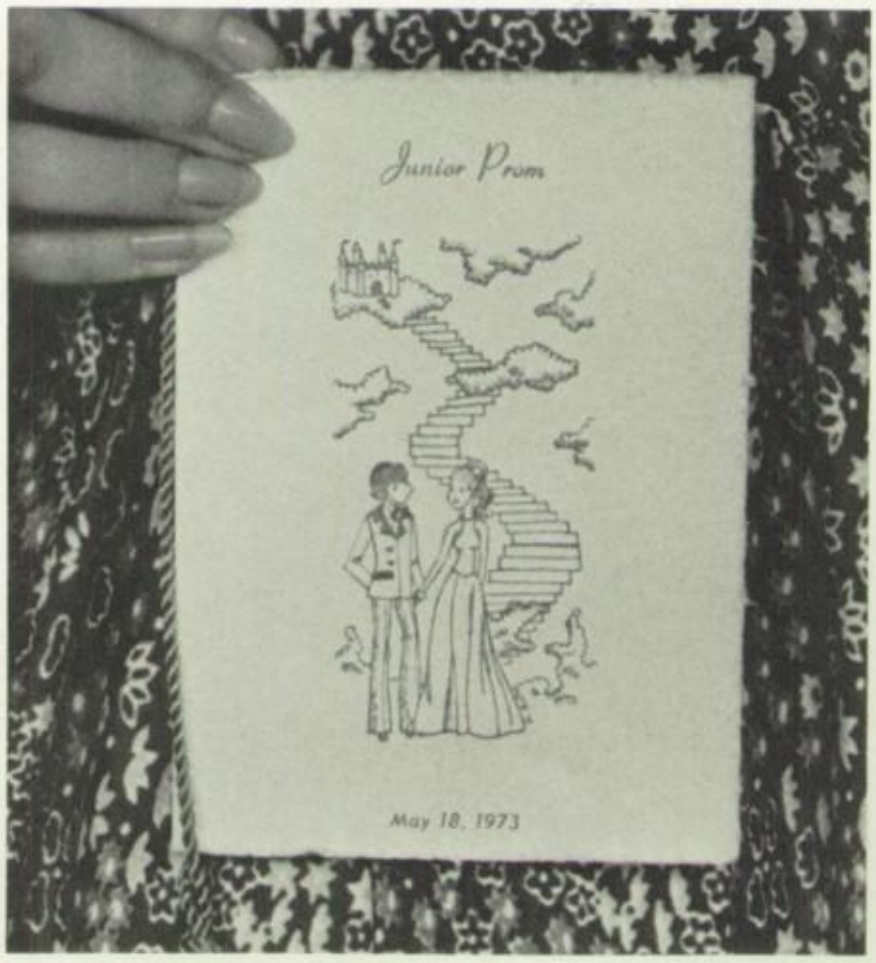
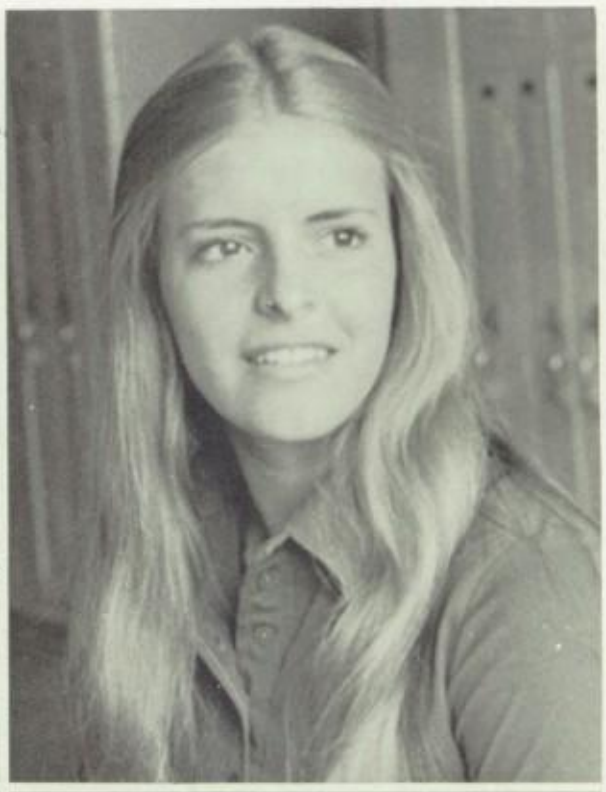
A NIGHT ON THE TOWN . . .

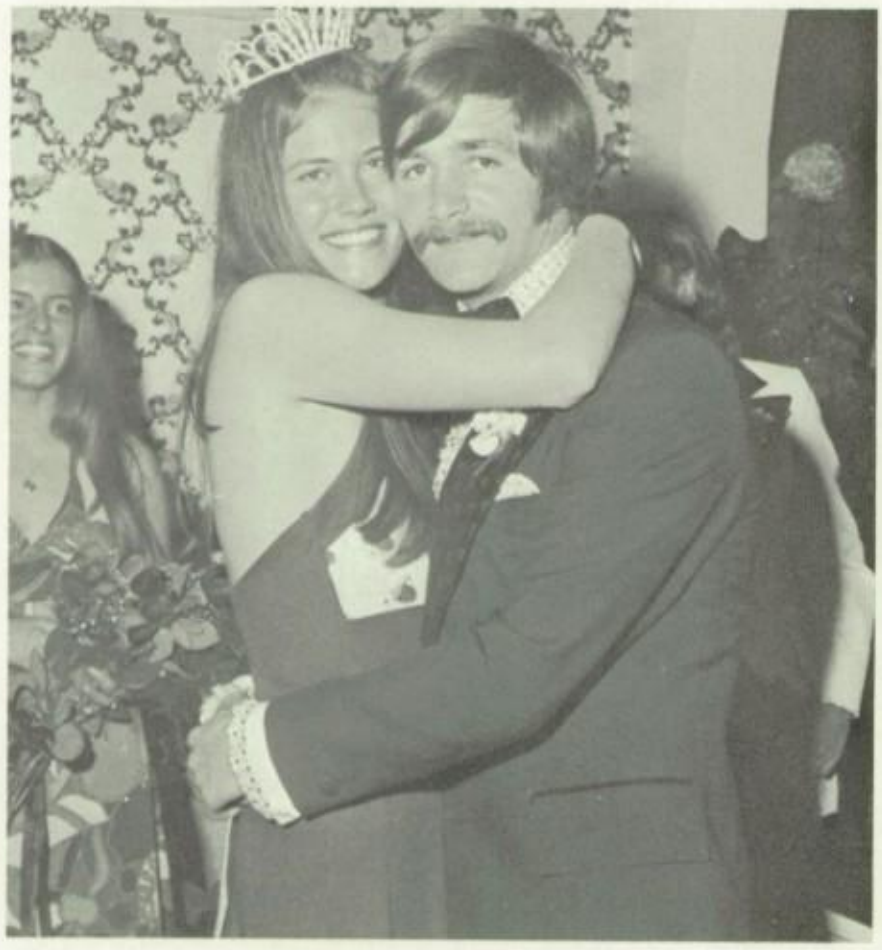
JUNIORS FIND THEIR "STAIRWAY TO HEAVEN"

Though pictures from the 1973 Junior Prom may be few, memories certainly are not. May eighteenth was a night to be remembered by all those in attendance at White Manor Country Club. The Music of Latent Stage inspired couples to make it an evening of dancing and quiet elegance. Jill Belack, Becky Henly, Diane Marmer, and Louann Mecaughey added their radiance to a truly heavenly prom court. Class president, Chris Desjardins, was crowned Junior Prom Queen admist cheers and applause for a job well done. Four hours of fun ended as juniors climbed down their "Stairway to Heaven" and headed back to Havertown for parties, picnics, and shore trips.





"PIECES OF APRIL"



With their high school years almost completed, three hundred forty-seven seniors enthusiastically purchased tickets to the senior prom, "Pieces of April." Held on April 19, 1974, at the Downingtown Inn, the prom was planned by the class officers and chairmen Chris Comsa and Carol Powell.

Latent Stage and Pendulum provided the music which kept the couples busy from ten o'clock until five o'clock. One o'clock marked the climax of the evening when Carol Powell was crowned Senior Prom Queen. Her court included Jill Belack, Theresa DiTrolio, Becky Henly and Louann Mecaughey.

Five o'clock arrived and the dance floor was packed, as if couples wished to drain from the evening the last few moments of their times together.

CHEERLEADING IS MORE THAN JUST CHEERS

An angry loss, a hard won victory, a bitter defeat
And the crowds trail their empty hopes and praises on the littered stands
While no one sees the happy hearts or dismal thoughts of high school girls
Who bear the wins and losses as their own.
When the school would sound of silence
The voices of these Spirit Drivers would resound within the brick walls
For these girls have cheered the victor, and the silent crowd.
They have given till there is no more to give.
They have felt the sweat of an athlete, the frustration of a coach . . . they have felt the sweetest of victories.

The soccer team successfully defended its Central League Championship by defeating Lower Merion with a score of 1-0 in the final game of the league season.

This year was to have been a rebuilding year. However, the team, led by Captain Stewart Agnetta, posted the best defensive record in the league and ranked second in offense.

After two pre-league losses, the booters put together a six game winning streak before injuries took their toll in the Upper Darby and Radnor losses. Haverford tied Radnor for the league title with a 6-2 record.

Haverford then played Radnor to a scoreless tie in a play-off for entry to the District I play-offs. Radnor won the game on corner kicks.

The Fords placed Agneta (league scoring leader), Reimold, Wallace, and Pawlawski on the All-Central League team. Agneta and Reimold were selected to the All-District team. Stewart Agneta also earned All-State honors.

Coach McMillen had hoped that the 1973 harriers would have a highly successful season, but losses due to graduating seniors and injury severely hampered Haverford's performance. Trying to fill the gap caused by injuries to four of the top six returners, including Manny Menendez, who placed 7th in the league meet of 1972, was Ian O'Connell and co-captains Rick Pesto and Sambo Fitzpatrick.

But the backbone of team lay in the underclassmen. Juniors Doug Roessler and Ganesh Bala, who was voted Most Valuable Runner, and sophomores Lon Claney and Joe Brodie all showed marked improvement as the season progressed. They all contributed to make the Fords a formidable opponent for Central League rivals. Next year looks brighter with five of the top six runners returning.

Allgates was established this year to replace the old course at the police field. One of the highlights was Doug Roessler's record breaking run for the 2.7 mile loop at Allgates.

Plagued with inexperience and injuries, the Fords did not enjoy a successful campaign. Key injuries sustained by center, Gerry McConnel; fullback, Pete Massaro; and guard, Bob Crissy were difficult to overcome. But the season did have its high points. With a high powered offense, the Fords proved that they could physically stay on the field with anyone, but mental mistakes kept them off the scoreboard. When season statistics were compiled, the Fords had a record for achieving more first downs than their Central League opponents.

Several players outshone on the Ford line up. Offensive standout, Don Tavani, rushed for over 800 total yards and eight touchdowns; quarterback, Brian Sibson completed 48 of his passes for three TD's. His leading receiver was Rich Anthony whose touchdown catch enabled the Fords to cap a strong rally over Radnor. Pat Kern's TD grab in the Upper Darby game was the longest touchdown pass of the season, thrown by Brian Sibson. The game included a valiant goal line stand in which the Ford defense held Upper Darby for four plays on the one yard line. Sophomore, Bob DiLullo led the team with 80 tackles.

The Fords managed to maintain high spirits and a winning attitude which rallied them to victory over Lower Merion. They were just a crucial play away from three or four other victories. Next year's returning team will surely prove that this year's effort was worth it.

TIME WINNERS

Haverford's musical talent is not only represented by their warbling sopranos. A group of equally talented musicians presented football spectators with glittery half-time performances reminiscent of the yesteryear Hollywood extravaganzas. There was an interesting new beat this year with drill team adding some lively new steps to their routines. All the members outdid themselves at Homecoming with a coed flapper show in colorful regalia. They also put on a repeat performance at the Talent Show.

The Band Mothers were also doing tireless work behind the scenes. Faced with the annual duty of raising money, they held a "Music Extravaganza" at the high school with a wide array of all Haverford's musical talent. Music is not yet a lost art at Haverford.

GIRL'S HOCKEY YIELDS FALL WINNERS

The varsity and junior varsity Girls' Hockey squads have driven and dribbled and defended their way through another season. Although they had a low scoring average, a strong varsity defense produced four consecutive shutouts. A majority of the varsity was made up of seniors. Surprisingly, the underclassmen on the squad were comprised mostly of sophomores.

Varsity coach, Miss Harrison, used more sprinting and time drills during practice, as well as pitting her girls against Mrs. Pass's junior varsity. Though strong seniors such as co-captains Jenny Giordano and Carol Hamilton will not be returning, underclassmen, such as high scorer, Sophomore Julie Hall will add strength to the new and promising 1974 Hockey teams.

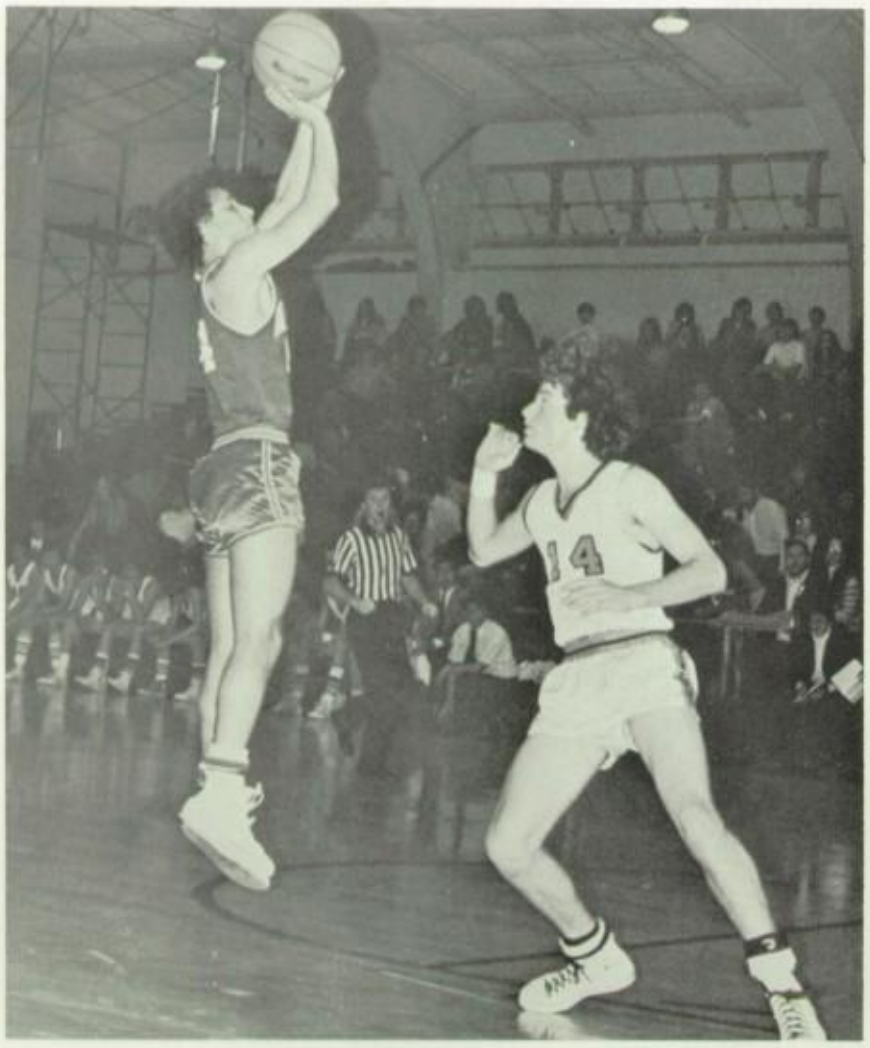
FORDS STRAIN TO OVERCOME . . .



Haverford High's Boy's Basketball Team's seasonal record of 6 wins and 8 losses is no doubt misleading. Suffering quite a few last second losses and playing in the same league with such super teams as Springfield (Dave Batton) and Radnor (Reggie Robinson) accounts for this.

However, Steve Juenger's Fords did have their season's high points. Victories over Radnor, Conestoga, and Penncrest highlighted the season.

Led by MVP Walt Perakupa, the Fords hung tough through the entire season. Varsity veterans Don Reimold and Louis Gold also played key roles for the Fords.

Bob Coy (6' 6") was the team's leading rebounder with Mike Schauerman and Frank Gaitley aiding him. Guards Sam Simms and Louis DeFelice quarterbacked the team with Greg Pasquini and Steve Myers helping out in sticky situations.

ON A HIGH NOTE

Led by team captain, Kathy McNamee and new coach, Miss Holgate, the girls basketball team completed a slow season beginning with a driving finish. They knocked over Ridley and Springfield, where Barbara Buba scored a game high total of 21 points. The Fords then faced Lower Merion, the Central League undefeated champs. They then proceeded to flatten the cocky Lions in an exciting game which eventually led Lower Merion to their bitter Central League downfall. This highlight concluded the season.

Though no players were outstanding in their ability, this young team showed great potential with eleven underclassmen returning, four who were on the starting lineup.

Even with a slow beginning, the girls proved that teamwork did have its rewards, and hopefully, they can carry this attitude into next year's season.

P.I.A.A. STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

The Volleyball team won the P.I.A.A. State Championship for an unprecedented seventh time in nine years.

In the televised championship match, an overwhelming offense and a strong defense enabled the Fords to sweep past a fine Penn Hills team 15-7, 15-8 for the State title.

Captain Doug Wallace led the team offense with 42 spikes, Dave Williams 30, Mark Pittenger 10. Dave Williams was the top blocker with 13. Setters Dan Raudenbush and George MacWilliams provided consistent accurate sets throughout the tournament, doing an outstanding job directing a great Ford offense. Serving and fielding specialists included Bob Gregory, Dave McKeighan and Paul Savander.

Haverford qualified for the State tourney by winning the District I championship for the eleventh straight year. The team completed an undefeated season winning 18 consecutive matches.

They also won the Middle Atlantic A.A.U. and the Regional 2 Championships which qualifies them for the National Junior A.A.U. Championships.

On Memorial Day weekend they conquered all to win the National Junior A.A.U. Championship.

HOME THE STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

When Haverford Matmen started their season against a strong and well-balanced Central League, they could never have expected the success they achieved.

Haverford lost only three league matches, completing the season with a 7-4 record. They can attribute their success to the hard work of the team as a whole, and in particular to the leadership of co-captains Bill Dages and Dean Brior.

The two highlights of the season were the victory at the Lansdowne Aldan Invitational Christmas Tournament for the thrid consecutive year, and the winning of the State title by junior, Dean Brior. Don Tavani, the district champ, also competed in the State championships. Another outstanding performer was Harry McElhiney, who won a sectional championship title. Head Coach, Jim Jones, expects a sturdy squad next year with six underclassmen returning.

On March 2, 1974, P. J. Kozicki traveled to Penn State for the state championships and took a second and a third place in the 100 Freestyle and 200 Freestyle, respectively. Both of the times were school records (47.89, 1:47.1) and were highlights of the season for the tankers.

Still swimming at the Main Line "Y" pool for home meets, the Fords finished fifth in the league. The tankers, though, came through with good individual performances from P. J. Kozicki and Jay Hoffman as well as from Steve Hunt and Fritz Taylor.

At the Central League Championship Meet, the Fords fared well, placing in almost every event with P. J. Kozicki breaking two pool and meet records. Paul LeVasseur, P. J. Kozicki, Jay Hoffman, and the 400 Free Relay team then advanced to the Districts at West Chester where Kozicki took a first in the 100 Freestyle and a second in the 200 Freestyle.

Most of the nucleus of this year's team will be gone next year with seniors Steve Hunt, Jay Hoffman, Al Fischbein, and Paul LeVasseur graduating.

The most exciting event of the season was when Al Fischbein, P. J. Kozicki, and Fritz Taylor qualified for the National YMCA Swimming Championships in Florida. P. J. brought home one third and two fourth place medals.

The Girls Swimming Season ended with a disappointing 1-7 record. Some of the defeats may be attributed to the lack of depth in the team. The girls were able to capture several first place positions, however their incapability to grab the necessary second, third, and fourth places left them behind in the point totals.

In post season competition, the girls were more successful than in recent years. The team sent three competitors to the District I Championship Finals. Captain, Carol Braceland finished first in the 50 yard Freestyle as did Maureen Kilgariff in the 100 yard backstroke. The third of Haverford's competitors, Carol Henwood, finished seventh in the 100 yard breaststroke event.

Miss Barbara Dean, the coach provided guidance and inspired the team with spirit and psyche throughout the season.

The girls anxiously await next year's season, confident that experience in competition will prove them the victor.

AGILITY AND ABILITY PROVE STRONG COMBINATION

Though only in its first season, the girls gymnastics team proved to be worthy competitors. Coach, Miss C. Kriebel guided the girls through five league meets. Led by co-captains, Sharon Detwiler and Karen O'Connor and aided by their teammates, Ford gymnasts proved that determination and repetition reap rewards.

Competition involved four areas of skill; floor exercise, vaulting, unevens, and the balance beam. Each requiring a different type of skill and coordination.

The girls practiced during their free periods as well as the designated after school practices, always working diligently to improve their skills. Some members also moonlighted by practicing at the YMCA and with other area gymnastic teams.

Outstanding performances by Kathy Martin, Jill Brooks, and Joan Morrison enabled them to compete in the Central League and District Championships. In the Central League Championships, first places were captured by Jill Brooks and Kathy Martin, and second place by Joan Morrison. Jill Brooks went on to the District Championships to compete in the floor exercise.

Lack of experience was the major obstacle in the path of victory for the Haverford baseball team of 1974. Coach Wayne Heim had many more rookies than in previous years, but veterans Doug Wallace, Mike Harris, Walt Perekupka and this year's Captain Steve Dintino helped out a great deal by familiarizing the players with the game plan.

Coach Helm's main aim was to get juniors and sophomores more oriented with on-the-field situations so that next year's team could be more experienced and stronger.

The best pitcher-catch team was Paul Girone hurling to Bobby DiLullo.

Because of the inexperience and decline of interest in a once most popular sport, an unimpressive record is now on the books. But four wins against eight losses is just a base that will be altered with the gain of confidence and development of the skills that are needed to execute a most beautiful game.

Two things can't be in the same place at the same time?

The team's co-captains, Carolyn Hamilton and Kathy McNamee, as well as coach Valerie Walchak, led the team through a somewhat disappointing season. With a record of 3-5 they couldn't compete in total points against other schools, however they did maintain the traditional man-to-man defense despite their opponents' reversals to easier defense patterns. Mary Jo McElhiney and Carolyn Hamilton led the team in total points scored. Carolyn, along with five other seniors, will be graduating this year, but the nucleus of the varsity squad will be returning next season.

The junior varsity, coached by Miss Diane Reynolds, had a successful 4-3-1 season and the team's high scorer was Pat Sorrel. Underclassmen made up the team, which should be an added advantage next year.

The Girls Lacrosse team finished the season with a Mother's Day buffet as a tribute to their most loyal fans.

Haverford's lacrosse team seemed headed for a spectacular season with a 5-4 pre-season win over Henderson (the '73 State Champs) and an opening day 11-3 romp over Academy of New Church. But with many injuries and the loss of goalie Wayne Scott, Haverford's season started downhill. The team performed as best it could despite missing players, but the effect of their absences is evidenced by the scorebox.

This year's senior lettermen include Paul Lamparski, Pat Kerns, Bob Manocchio, and Bruce Rubin on defense; Stewart Agneta, George Wattles, Mike Frey, Jeff Levin, and Frank Felsburg on attack; and midfielders Captain Bill Galli, Pete Massucci, Jay Nulty, Ed Haas, and Brian Benhaim.

The team shows great promise for next year, with several high scorers returning for the '75 season. They are Mark and Richard Peezick, Bryan Sibson, and Ed Krempa.

Although not in the running for the State Championship, Haverford has definitely shown improvement over the '72 record of 0-10 and last year's record of 4-6.

CENTRAL LEAGUE

Instilled with a great deal of determination and pride, the track team surprised the league with a 7-1 record and a piece of the Central League Championship.

Head Coach, Mike McMillen, assisted by Coaches Mike Ahlum, Ray Parzik, and Hal Bauer, attributed the team's success to the great depth in almost every event and a good nucleus of returning lettermen.

The highlights of the season were the 86-64 victory over Conestoga which ended a 24 meet winning streak; Stan Nash's record breaking performances in the high jump and triple jump, and the mile relay team's championship at the prestigious Penn relays. The four boys who participated wrere Parke Hess, Craig Estes, Danny Trueman, and John Reber. The 880 yard relay team, consisting of Shep Witherow, Peter Henzy, Bob Yaple, and George Marshall, lost only one race this season. Rick Giordano, Bob Schweiker, Danny Trueman, and Rick Pesto composed the 2 mile relay team and lost only twice.

With all the talent behind this lithe team, the Central League crown is no surprise to Haverford.

HAVERFORD'S

Led by undefeated Central League champ, Bill Schmucker, the male half of Haverford's tennis enthusiasts played on despite setbacks. Seniors Neil Faggen, Dave Hamilton, and Dave Rodda, played singles for three more varsity match points, while Mitch Resnick and Lee Hankin teamed up for the Ford's only two man team.

The Girl's Tennis team swung into a new direction this year. Talented underclassmen built up the ranks, the coach, Mr. Olphert, displayed enthusiastic leadership, facilities for practices improved remarkably, and after countless years, the team received new uniforms. This new direction proved to be a positive one.

Leading the team, Barb Buba firmly defended her position as first singles. Judy Voynow, in second position, and Terry Rosenberg, playing third singles, had consistant seasons. "The odd couple", Marla Chanin and Carol Levitt, played first doubles. Laura Arnesen, Allyn Engman, and Heidi Techner also showed athletic prowness.

Tennis, the up-and-coming sport, is now ready to ace its way into the Haverford athletic program.

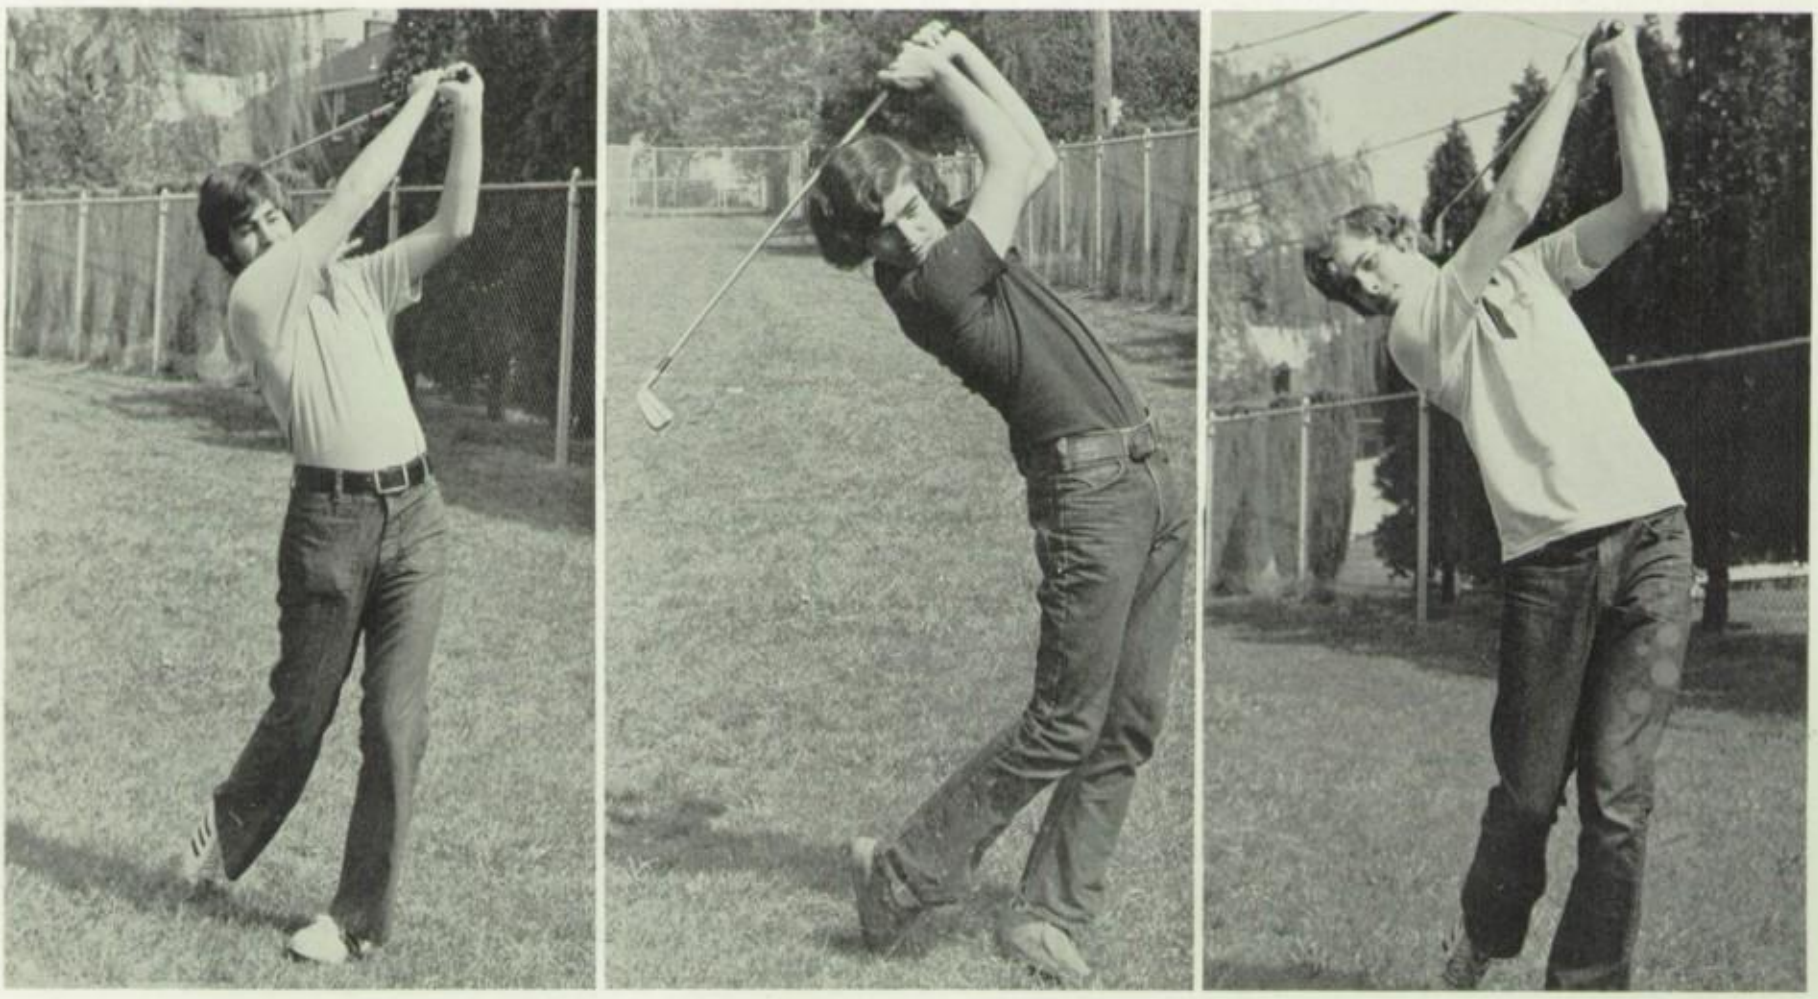
FORDS ARE FOUND ON THE GREEN, IN THE GYM



The 1974 edition of the Haverford High School Golf team shows much experience. Four of the five varsity men are seniors. They are Pete Mayer, Bob Gold, Jeff Pogue, and Bob Creighton. Junior, Jim Ferris will play an even bigger role next year as the only returning letterman.

At press time the Fords' record was 2-2-1 with wins over Springfield and Nether Providence. Coach Warren Brodt feels that the 1974 Golf team has an even greater potential than their record reflects.

Intramurals brought an added dimension to the HHS sports program. This year, under the direction of Mr. Mike Ahlum, the teams competed in such sports as football, basketball, and softball. The squads were divided into leagues according to ability. Generally the seniors were in "A" league and the underclassmen in "B" league. Teams were awarded honors at the end of each season.

JUNIORS STRIVE TO SURPASS FORT KNOX

The Junior Class has sustained a great deal of activity this year, despite the pressures of a hectic academic junior year. For a class that, theoretically, should have been spending time thinking of the future, they did a good job of destroying old postulates and pumping some of their adrenilin into the high school. They sponsored the first dance of the year, mastered the art of candy apple making and sold it at a profit, sold candy to hungry spectators at the basketball games. This enterprising Class of '75 will have the right to stand up with pride at their accomplishments in June, only they may be sitting down with exhaustion.

THEIR FUTURE LIES IN DETERMINATION

The Sophomore Class, led by Carol DiGiallorenzo, made a great start in their three year trek at Haverford. An enthusiastic turn out at Slave Day, the annual money-maker, boosted the treasury with some great profits. They also participated in their share of bake sales. With two more years to go, the Class of '76 has already made an impression in the high school. Hopefully their new enthusiasm will help light another spark in Haverford history. They have made great beginnings.

HAVERFORD SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Mill Rd. & Leedom Ave., Havertown, Pa.

To the Class of "74"

Very often when young people launch their careers, they become so busy building castles for themselves that the most important and most meaningful aspects of life are passed by.

As you mature into full adulthood with all the accompanying responsibilities, I urge you to adopt meaningful values and sensible goals to guide you through life. Economic stability and growth are important, but taking time to be with your family, to enjoy the cultural experiences, and to do much for others can greatly add to the significance of one's existence.

When your day is done, let it be simply said that you were a good person and that you lived life fully.
